6. QUESTIONS

From:	Deputy Gollop	To:	President, Development & Planning Authority
1	Whilst many of us would applaud the new building control rules regarding timber frames being covered in brick work as the right reaction at the right time to protect the public and enhance safety will the DPA when issuing revised guidance etc

improve communications, consultation and training to the construction industry including architects and building suppliers?

---

- 2 Bearing in mind these new regulations will reduce options, increase costs and take longer for the construction sector, will the DPA consider and promise taking account of further developments, technologies and mitigations including European countries to ensure we follow best practice but can facilitate new ecological carbon friendly ideas and modular creations?
